Dear Colleague,

As an Edison resident who works in the field of education, you don't need to be enlightened to the challenges we are confronted with each day. Our belief in the public schools allows us to overcome each and every obstacle to educational success.

Edison, as most districts, must adhere to the public demands for a quality school system. You, being more attuned to the educational process, must work to protect and improve Edison's educational system.

Our organization, the Edison Township Education Association, has decided to present to Edison NJEA residents, a list of Board of Education candidates whose focus is to bring stability to Edison's Board of Education and as such, our Edison children can be better served.

H2 – CAROL BODOFSKY – a retired Edison educator, Carol would bring her experiences as a teacher, a parent, a community member, a voter, and a taxpayer in Edison to the BOE table. She would like to keep Edison's school district moving in a forward direction in order to provide future generations of students the education they need to succeed in the world in which they will live.

H4 – ELIZABETH CONWAY – a retired educator, Elizabeth taught Special Education in Edison for 16 years at various grade levels. Her varied backgrounds and her knowledge would bring another viewpoint to the BOE as to how best to guide the district into the future. She would like to help continue the district's goal of "Nothing but Excellence".

H7 – BETH MORONEY -- a current BOE member, Beth has served as the Board's Vice President for the last two years. She worked for 39 years in public education, including in Edison Township, first as an English teacher and then as an Assistant Vice Principal. As a member of the Board, she has spent countless hours in meetings and trainings to guarantee that we provide the best teaching environment for Edison's children.

H11 – WILLIAM ARAUJO – an Edison resident for more than 16 years, "Willie" currently works at the New Jersey Institute of Technology where he also serves as a Staff Council Executive Committee member. He is president of his local union, AFSCME and a member of Edison Township's Planning Board Council. He has served as NJIT's Hazmat Team Deputy Chief, and as an Edison Auxiliary Police Sergeant.

Respectfully,

Jeff Bowden, President
Edison Township Education Association
